Remaining strong with our long-standing commitment to energy conservation and the community we serve, the Holden Municipal Light Department reminds you about our Residential Conservation Service program. This service is designed to provide Holden Residential customers with information on ways to be more energy efficient and reduce energy costs.

If you have questions concerning energy efficiency, or if you simply have a question about a specific end-use, such as an appliance, or efficiency measures (e.g. insulation), the "Energy Hotline" is available to residents of Holden Municipal Light Department. Simply call the toll free number at: 1-888-772-4242 and a customer service representative will be happy to assist with your question, refer you to an energy specialist, or even send information and tips on how to save energy and energy dollars.

If you would like to request a free Energy Audit of your residence brought to you by Holden Municipal Light Department, the representative can also coordinate this service on your behalf. The Energy Audit consists of a highly trained Energy Advisor who will visit your home, answer your questions, and help determine how energy efficient your home is.....or could be. The Energy Advisor will also compile a comprehensive energy evaluation report as a result of the findings. This report will identify ways to enhance both the energy efficiency and comfort of your home and, potentially reduce energy costs.

If you would like more information on Energy Conservation services available to you, please contact the Energy Hotline at: 1-888-772-4242.
